David Foulger

Type of governor: Governor appointed by the Trustees of Aletheia Anglican Academies Trust (until we joined the Trust I represented the Diocesan Board of Education as a Foundation Governor).

Occupational background: I worked for a Scottish Clearing Bank for some time before training as a teacher. Initially I taught Business Studies, Economics and Accounting until I switched to Religious Education. At the time of my retirement I was the Head of RE in a Secondary school in Northfleet.

Special interest areas: I am interested in all areas of the curriculum and have been involved particularly with RE during the last few years. Also I am a governor responsible for the Safeguarding requirements in school. I enjoy meeting parents during consultation afternoons/evenings.

About me: I have been married for over 40 years and we have lived in Sutton-at-Hone since 1977. Our two daughters attended this school. I am keen to assist in establishing links between St John's parish church and the school. Quite frequently I assist the Children's team at Ellenor hospice in Northfleet on a voluntary basis. I enjoy watching football but tend to go to 'smaller' matches so I am more likely to be seen watching Grimsby Town or St Mirren than Manchester United or Celtic.
